

Public Comments from Community Participation in Development Review Station

What is the best way to notify you about development in Fort Collins? What do you value about a neighborhood meeting?	Tallies per response
Social media platforms	2
HOAs	1
Community organizations	2
Email	4
Postcard with invite (e.g with specific issues up for discussion)	6
Answering questions by phone is unreliable, gather all principle parties together for in-person meetings	1
Ads on transfort	1
Community events/meetings (that're fun, accessible and broadly engaging)	7
Next-door (social media)	2
Advertise in different languages- make materials at meetings accessible this way	2
City newsletter included on utility bills	3
More structured neighborhood events (activities, worksheets to assess people's desires)	1
Make both sides of political desires more understandable	1
Text	1
Find a way to make voices heard of those who are busy with work/childcare at communtiy meetings they can't attend	1
Chances to talk to developers directly in forum	2
Engage more young people (through CSU, sessions not during finals, even out demographic of responses)	2
Make meetings more democratic by catering not just to rich, white and older folks	1
Listening sessions hosted by city council by council district	2
Allow enough time for residents to comment on video calls	1
Public hearings on administrative cases, upfront public invovlement	1