

PRAIRIE FOOD CHAINS

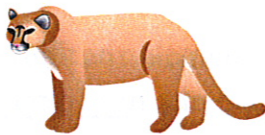

hawk

eagle

coyote

mountain lion

bison

deer

rattlesnake

sparrow

mouse

rabbit

grasshopper

prairie dog

grass

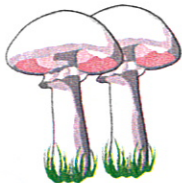

yucca moth

yucca

wildflowers

fungus

roundworms

seeds

Draw a line connecting each animal to its food.
Answer the questions on the back of this page.

FOOD WEB QUESTIONS

1. Green plants are the only living things that can make their own food using the sunlight and water. They are called producers. Name the producers:
2. Animals that eat producers are called consumers. The first consumers in a food chain are herbivores. Herbivores eat green plants. Name the herbivores:
3. Animals that eat other animals are also called consumers. Name the consumers that eat other animals:
4. Decomposers are those organisms that break down dead plants and animals. They usually live in the soil. Which do you think are the decomposers? Why are decomposers important?
5. Animals that eat green plants are called herbivores. Are herbivores producers, consumers or decomposers?
6. Animals that eat other animals are called carnivores. Are carnivores producers, consumers, or decomposers?
7. Do producers, consumers, or decomposers make their own food from sunlight and water?
8. Are green plants producers, consumers, or decomposers?